

Maternity-Support Corset Model 500

Designed in consultation with Dr. Arnd Bunemann M.D.

Article: Model 500

Our Maternity-Support Corset (Model 500) gently supports the abdomen without causing undue compression. The lacing on the sides of the garment lets the expecting mother regulate the degree of support she wants. Should during term the abdominal panel become too small, it can simply be replaced by a larger one. Firm materials as well as steels in the back panels assure excellent support of the spinal area.

Description / Function:

- Abdominal panel made with a double layer of Tulle two-way stretch elastic mesh and lined with a non-skin sensitive elastic cotton Tulle mesh
- two layers of cotton Sateen for extra strength in the lower abdominal area
- lacing on either side facilitates exchange of abdominal panel
- hook and eye side closure on left side with two rows of eyes
- back panels are made with two layers of cotton Sateen or cotton Jacquard
- two removable steels
- comes semi-finished ready for fitting

Indication:

- back pain during pregnancy
- hip pain during pregnancy
- lumbar instability and improper posture during pregnancy
- loosening/separation of the symphysis pubis

Colours / Special Features:

Available in: skin tone and white.

Special Optional Extras: (examples)

- abdominal support with Velcro® closure
- fixed bottom closure
- removable bottom closure
- wide shoulder straps
- pilot cloth band inside back panel for fitting pad

Article: Model 500

